Celadon Restaurant

Inspired by an ancient form of glaze practiced in Cambodian and Asian ceramics, Celadon Restaurant is rooted in both traditional and international flavors. True to its name, our ceramics are all customized for the hotel by Lo Yu Yu, a master ceramic artist in Siem Reap province who makes pieces from ancient Angkorian kiln using celadon glaze – serving as symbolic vessels to encapsulate the distinct fine local and global cuisine we serve.

Exhibited in the restaurant are permanent collections of Khmer pottery, ceramics, brasses, traditional music instruments and artworks from the past decades and centuries, a fine showcase of Cambodia's heritage told through the stories of unique earthenware, from terracotta to celadon glazed pieces.

Full complimentary breakfast for guests is served here with a la cart menu. Lunch and dinner is served with local and continental dishes. The Khmer dishes are from the owner, Mane and her family, with some recipes handed down from generations. Healthy dining is our core with fresh and organic ingredients forming the heart of every meal while our Cambodian chef also whips up the finest flavors from the kitchen without artificial flavors like MSG.

Guests may enjoy the flavors of Celadon in the restaurant or outdoors near the garden. Most importantly, private in-room dining and BBQ can also be arranged.
